

Tinder Guide

By Sharkbreed

You're reading this because you want to get laid on Tinder and you believe that this internet stranger can help you in that. So I hope that you would take this advice playfully and have fun with it. I cannot get you the experience, that's your domain; I can only show you the path and leave rest on you. I hope you won't let yourself down. If you don't do it, your genes aren't meant to be passed upon so better give up on all this dating thing and better use your time on something productive. Let's Begin,

The Girl Dilemma:

Tinder is no longer a hookup app like it once was during its humble beginnings. A lot of girls use it just for fun or to get validation and not necessarily to hook up. It's a mere tool to get to know about women around you and setting up a profile that gets them interested. Once they swipe right, it's pure GAME. You will be using it initially to get laid and then to just pick and choose, much like you do in night Game.

Girls use tinder because it's fun. There are no two ways about it. It's the new Facebook/instagram/Candy Crush for them and they use it as such for most part. It's a great way to kill time but for a good chunk it's just that. Should you be dejected about it? No. Think about it, do girls come to nightclubs/bars/play recitals/malls to exclusively get laid or approached? As a Pickup Artist you still approach them so why should tinder be any different.

Now let's start building your Cool Profile.

PROFILE

It is the most important thing on tinder. A good profile will get you a lot of matches, a bad one will ensure you keep your hand busy to swipe right on other's profile.

A profile has 2 pillars; your photos and your description. Let's get both of these sorted.

The Photos

Basic rules:

- Make sure that the pictures are of hi resolution.
- Make sure that you're having fun in those pictures.
- Make them appear candid.
- Take close in pictures so that your face and eyes are clearly visible.
- If possible, try taking the photos from a DSLR or good quality point and shoot camera. If you don't have one, take help from a friend or get them professionally snapped.
- Avoid selfies as much as you can.
- Include women in your pictures if you can.
- Include photos of you on an adventurous location.
- Include pics with dogs, cats, rabbits or any other cute animal( I would recommend that you do service at local pet center for a few hours every week but that's just an advice)
- Include shirtless photos only if you're in good shape and even then match the background accordingly. Pools, Beach, Gyms etc work as background.

Picture 1

It's the most important pic of the lot so make sure you get in right from word go. As a standard template, make it a candid shot with you, keep a cheeky grin and try and avoid looking into the camera. Make sure it's a close up shot with your face and eyes visible.

Here are a few examples:

This is a good pic but a little more zoomed in would be great.

Almost a perfect photo, it's just that he closed his eyes. Keep them open a little more.

Picture 2:

Try putting up a picture of you being in a social setting talking to girls/clicking pictures with hot girls and having fun. The key is to appear physically comfortable in a woman's company which many guys just can't do.

Some Examples:

Picture 3

Travel photo. I think that it's self ex. Make sure that you have landmark/monument in the background.

Bad example:

Good example:

- You should edit things like extra people in this pic to create a better effect.

Picture 4

- Pictures of you with your family on an outing or even at home chilling. Just make sure it's not a selfie and you're good.

Picture 5

- Insert pic of your body if you're in shape; otherwise insert another travel pic to a different location. Make sure that the background is relevant.

Picture 6

- Insert a pic with a dog or a cat. Now is the time to visit that pet shelter.

Picture 7

- Picture of doing something adventurous/fun so your snapshot of dancing/mountaineering/rock climbing et al goes here.

Picture 8

- Never gave a speech to 1000 people in a conference hall or delivered a standup routine. Well now is your chance, just make sure your camera guy gets the photo of it. A hack would be to borrow a phone mike and stand in some empty amphitheater and get clicked. This picture is here to display your social status and clout.

Picture 9 -12

- Cocktail- Take few more pictures from above activities and put them here. If you don't have some pictures from above set pattern, then improvise adapt and overcome.

WORD – Make sure you have at least 6 profile photos and you can interchange their places with exception of first two. I already covered grooming and wardrobe in my prior post so make use of that.

Bio/Description

Level 1:

If you're a noob, make sure your description is as loosely put as it can be. The description should never be needy and appear as if very little or no efforts were made to put it up.

Examples:

- I am very passionate about drinking water.
- Here because blow up dolls are really expensive.
- Funny, mildly handsome and totally nuts.
- I love the smell of a new shampoo bottle. It gets me as high as a Tibetan monk.
- I loveee ketchup. On French fries and with pizza. Also whiskey is overrated.

Use emojis if you want to but keep them to a minimum. You shouldn't try hard with a description...anything that comes to your mind first is your description. I would also advise you to come up with quirky lines of yours and don't copy anyone's line. You're on tinder to have fun and so are your targets. Unnecessarily wasting time on a description helps no one.

LEVEL 2

Try being provocative and funny at the same time. Provocation acts as a filter to weed out ugly, unwanted chicks.

Some examples:

- I travel the world with my people looking for new adventures and water bottles. If you're chubby then I am sorry but I can't tag you along because you won't fit in my bag.
- Early morning runs are so amazing especially on days when you don't encounter double chins and belly tires. I sincerely hope you don't have either in real life.
- I liked to watch people as they pass by. Come along and we can laugh together at land whales.
- We can have food at McD but if you're ugly, I'll be forced to put a paper bag on your face the whole time.
- I like to visit churches repenting for my sins especially when I encounter a lot of gluttony in a room full of obesity.

Be whacky, creative and provocative. It generates shit tests and can often make the girl start a conversation. Hold your ground in a shit test and you'll have the girl. Most important thing to remember here is that hot women don't get angry if you call them fat or ugly because they know their reality. It's only the ugly people who get offended when called fat. Also, deploy level 2 type only if your pictures are really good and you're in control of your shit because it can backfire otherwise. There is a level 3 and 4 too but I don't think you'll need them this early in tinder life.

When you match:

So, how should you open a girl once you're matched with her? Let's look into it and analyze text game a bit. As a rule of thumb, try doing to things as early as you possibly can in a conversation; introduce the element of sex and be direct and try to shift that conversation in person( unless you're looking for sexting and getting nudes).

Opening:

- Never open with a question unless there's something in girls' profile that you can manipulate into a question. It's the same rule that applies to night game so there's no need for it to change here.
- Try to be the outlier. So no hello, hey ☺ , hiii, wassup, heya stupidity. So many people do it and for most it's an end of conversation right then and there.
- Try to be funny/ridiculous/stupid/provocative. Let that inner dork out to open a tinder conversation and it'll get you the results.

Some examples,

- Text her the first line of a catchy song. E.g. first two lines of Call me maybe, Chaiya chaiya, Chandelier or any popular song you like.
- String a few emojis to tell a story. It's a little risky and stupid but it stands out.

- Neg openers – work great and generates shit test. e.g. “you look like a lot of trouble”, “I love that wig you’re wearing in your pictures”. You can find a lot of negs on internet, “you seem sweet but my gut suggest that you’re a troublemaker”
- Stupid openers – just say something stupid. “I am an expert in being a couch potato”.

As long as you keep in mind the first 3 principles, you can create your own openers. There are no limits to creativity just like there’s none to lust.

The conversation

Tbqh, it’s all just game from here on. First thing is to build a little rapport and make her comfortable so that she agrees with giving you her number/go out on a date. We’ve covered rapport building in my pickup series so I won’t repeat it here. I’ll only lay down a few guidelines.

- Keep the conversation light. Women are emotional beings and if you take a conversation deep early on, you will get bored and she’ll sense that. Use a lot of ‘lol’, ‘haha’ and ‘lmao’. Emojis are your friend too.
- Make grammatical errors deliberately so that they get a chance to correct it( don’t overdo it or else you’ll kill it)
- Make statements and avoid using questions. Let’s say she seems interested and wants to go out. Don’t ask “would you like to go to xxxx” instead make a statement like “I’ll be at work till xx hours and then I am going to x place, feel free to join in”. Let’s say you wanna ask how she is so make a statement along lines on “you seem to be in a rather good mood.”
- The principle at work here is to raise her level of energy which in turn energizes the conversation and makes you a whole lot desirable.
- Never write wall of text in a conversation. If your text has more than 3 sentences, understand that it’ll fuck up conversation. Keep length at bay.

Setup the date as quickly as possible

This is important and you should push towards this after say 6th or 7th text.

Remember that she swiped right to you so there is already a sense of likeness and you did your work with rapport building. The longer you wait, the less likely it is that she'll go out with you.

Try not to go on dinners or longgg walks on first date when a coffee or a few drinks can do the trick for you.

Here's my line to prep up a date.

Me – you seem a rather spontaneous person or am I reading you wrong?

Her – I am spontaneous (it's usually the answer because no one wants to sound like an uptight person. If she says no and adds an emoji...it's on and she's just playing)

M – I assume you can carve out some time from your schedule.

H- yes/no/depends.

M- Great, there's this cool bar/coffee house near both of us, let's grab a coffee and I'll tell you a story that came to my head when I saw that necklace/broach/bag on you.

H- What's the story? /sure...

M- Hold your horses lady/cool, here are the directions....also, do you whatsapp?

H – Yeah.

M – well, let's take this conversation to whatsapp because I have 0 faith on tinder servers. They crash on me all the time(you're trying to get her number)

That's it. Once you have her number, build more rapport and then go out on a date.

That's all there is to getting dates on tinder. It's that easy. If you know game and your lifestyle is built around it, it would seem a seamless transition. There's no rocket science involved because the rules of seduction always stay the same. I'll attach my pickup series with this for you people to study the basics so that you can maximize your results. So long mates 😊
